Story-The Golden Egg

Once upon a time there was a man who had a goose, that laid a golden egg everyday. He used to sell these eggs and get a lot of money for them. One day he thought if he cut the goose he would get all the eggs at one time. So he cut goose but got nothing.

Moral- We must not be greedy.

Story-Sense Organs

Once all the sense organs had an argument, the nose nose said, "I am the greatest. without me you can not smell"

The eyes said, "No, No, without me you can't do anything. The skin said, "without me you are not able to know what is hot or what is cold".

The ear said, "I am the greatest. Without me you cannot hear anything".

The tongue said, "I give the commands, so I am the boss". They could not find the solution, So they all asked the man which of them was the most important.

The man replied, "I need all of you to know the world around me".

To me all of you are equally important.

Moral- Everyone is important and special.

Story-One good turn deserves another

One hot day, an ant came to a river for water. Suddenly she slipped and fell into the water. A Dove sitting on a tree quickly plucked a leaf and dropped it into the water. The ant climbed up the leaf. Soon the Dove carried her safely to a dry ground. Just at that time, a hunter was trying to put the net on the dove. The ant quickly bites him on the hand. Due to the pain the hunter dropped his net. The Dove quickly flew away safely.
